

Meet Your Presenter

With more than 26 years of experience on the seminar circuit, Certified Speaking Professional Mandi Stanley works primarily with business leaders who want to boost their professional image and with people who want to be better speakers and writers. She has traveled throughout North America entertaining and educating more than 67,000 seminar participants, totaling 6,000 platform hours. Some of her repeat clients include:

Campbell's Soup

United States Air Force

Kimberly-Clark's World Headquarters

Nuclear Energy Institute

McDonald's USA

Godiva Chocolate

and

the National Football League (that's right—the NFL!)

In 2003, Mandi was designated a CSP, Certified Speaking Professional. Fewer than 9 percent of all worldwide speakers have earned this designation, and Mandi is the first Mississippian in history to receive this honor through the National Speakers Association.

She's a summa cum laude graduate with concentrations in English, communication, and management, and served as a faculty member of the American Management Association for five years. Mandi is the author of The No-Panic Plan for Presenters, which was named a Finalist in the Career category at the Independent Book Publishers Awards in New York, and she's here today to share how we can create a capstone experience in our areas of influence simply through the way we communicate with others. Audiences appreciate her platform enthusiasm, interactive style, and content-rich messages.

More important for us today, though, she brought chocolate for everyone! Please join me in welcoming—CSP Mandi Stanley.
